Current programs

Our focus at Loreto House is the mother. We strive to love her and help remove any obstacles that are pressuring her to abort. Many women suffer from poverty, abuse, and homelessness.

We try to alleviate these pressures and help her to love her baby in the best way possible. Educational programs available for our moms include:

Compassion for the dying

Loreto House is a resource for any person who has a loved one at the end of life. Many families have questions about the ethical treatment of a relative and often want someone to sit and be with their loved one. Our volunteers are there to offer prayer, information, and other services without any pressure.
